THE Great Indian Peninsular Railway Company, at the ensuing meeting, will seek authority to raise £3,000,000 more share capital, with, of course, the concurrence of the Secretary of State for India. The total share capital of the Company will thus be increased to £20,000,000.

BY the report of a police case at Marlborough street, London, it appears that a husband, brutally ill-using his wife, endeavored to strangle her. While, however, she lay thus, a favorite cat, named "Topsy," suddenly sprang upon the man, and fastened her claws and teeth in his face. He could not tear the cat away, and was obliged to implore the woman he had been ill using to take the cat away to save his life.

THERE is at last a prospect of the vast mineral wealth of China being turned to some account. Tring Footae has received permission to open up the coal fields at Nanking and Kinthaing, where coal of a very superior quality is obtainable. He intends to send to England for competent engineers and the requisite machinery. Good specimens of coal have also been obtained at San-ti, some two hundred miles above Hankow.

THE reporters of the London morning papers "struck" a few nights ago, against the arrangements made for their accommodation at the banquet given by the Benchers of the Inner Temple of the Prince of Wales. They were not asked to dine, and were placed, they said, in a position where they could neither see nor hear. The result was that they refused to stay, and the Times alone has a report of the proceedings.

THE late Mr. Thackeray had a nose of most peculiar shape, as may be seen by his portrait. The bridge was very low, and the nostrils extremely well developed. On one occasion, at a party where Douglas Jerrold was present, it was mentioned that Mr. Thackeray's religious opinions were unsettled, and that a lady of his acquaintance was doing her best to convert him to Romanism. "To Romanism!" exclaimed Jerrold. "Let us hope she'll begin with his nose."

M. HUMBERT, the Swiss Minister at Jeddo, says that Japanese mothers have greater authority over their children than the fathers, and the rights of women are so far reconized in the country that a woman has wielded the sceptre of the Mikados. Instruction is never forced upon either parents or children. It is supposed to recommend itself naturally, by its own intrinsic merits, and every man and woman throughout the Empire is able to read, write and cypher.

No one was recently more astonished than an enterprising Englishman in Rome, who was about to open a large hotel in the Eternal City. His intention was to call it the Hotel Byron; but the Papal authorities objected to that name on the ground that Lord Byron had been an infidel. At the same time they were kind enough to inform him that he might call his hotel the Shakspeare House or the Newton House. He finally resolved to call it the Westminster House.

A PARIS correspondent, writing just previous to the vote on the plebiscite, says: A wine shop advertises "anti-plebiscitory wine;" those who will vote "no" will be allowed credit, but the "yes" electors must pay on delivery. A dressmaker announces "oui" and "non" toilettes; and the violent Marseillaise journal augurs bad for the Emperor, because his name furnishes the "no"—"N-ap-O-leo-N." But the newspaper overlooks the fact that his Christian name supplies the better coincidence of a "yes"—"L-OT-r-s."

THE Dresden Gallery has been enriched by the purchase of a valuable picture by Hans Holbein the younger, representing the death of Virginia. The tribune Appius Claudius sits on a throne, and the tragic scene takes place in the midst of a crowd of people before him. The elevation of style and power of expression shown in this picture are said to place it in the front rank of German historical painting of the sixteenth century. It has very recently been discovered in Dusseldorf, but no account of the circumstances has reached us.

THE English "Historical Manuscripts Commission," appointed to make search among the archives of old English families for archaeological purposes, have discovered, among other things, the original MMS. of the English Book of Common Prayer. We may also note as of general interest the original letter of Charles I., addressed to the House of Lords in May, 1641, recommending that Strafford be imprisoned rather than executed, and containing the postscript: "If he must die it were a charity to reprieve him until Saturday," and the original petition from Laud, while imprisoned in the Tower.

ON the 18th ult., a great fire, which lasted about a week, broke out in the woods back of Fort William, on the Canadian shore of Lake Superior. It spread over an extent of country supposed to be nearly fifty miles wide and an unknown distance northward. The "Dawson road," just finished for the passage of the Canadian expedition to Red River, was burned its entire length, forty miles, and every bridge destroyed. A force of 300 laborers is repairing the damaged roadway. The delay of the Canadian troops at the Sault probably saved the entire force from total destruction in the burning wilderness.

MR. EDGAR DRUMMOND, writing to the Times, says the statement is not correct that the captives taken by the Greek brigands drew lots to decide who should go to Athens for the money necessary for the ransom. The conversation of the captives on this subject related solely to the means at the disposal of each for paying or raising so large a sum as £25,000. Lord Muncaster said he would guarantee half the entire sum, and Mr. Vyner said he would guarantee the remaining half, and that the details should be settled when all were at liberty. It thus resolved itself into a question between Lord Muncaster and Mr. Vyner who should go to Athens, and Mr. Vyner at once requested Lord Muncaster to go. At that time there was little or no apprehension for their safety, it being considered merely as a money question. Mr. Drummond adds that Her Majesty's Consul at Piraeus and the manager of the Ionian Bank, Mr. Merlin, within a few hours of Lord Muncaster's arrival at Athens placed the sum of £20,000 in gold at the disposal of Lord Muncaster and Mr. Erskine.

THE paragraphs of the Boston Post are probably more extensively copied than those of any other paper, and the man who writes them has recently taken a fancy to Pittsburgh and the consequence is that about half of the noteworthy occurrences which takes place west of New York, and east of Chicago, are saddled upon the Iron City. Thus the Russian at Cleveland who asked for a kiss when he wanted cheese was transferred to us, as was the robbery of Hon. B. H. Brewster in Philadelphia.

THE Johnstown papers publish a call to the electors of Cambria county, irrespective of party, to elect delegates, one Republican and one Democrat, from each borough, ward or township in the county, to a convention to meet June 18th, for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the Legislature pledged to the passage of a law removing the county seat from Ebensburg to Johnstown.

THE York Democrat says: Mad dogs continue to alarm the people and endanger life in different parts of the country. In Newbury township one of these most dreaded animals bit a dog belonging to Michael Seiffert last week, and from thence proceeded to the river, where he made an attack upon George Low, of York Haven, who was at the time engaged in digging worms for fish bait. Mr. Low succeeded in knocking the brute down three times with his spade, when it beat a hasty retreat. Mr. Seiffert's dog was afterwards shot. A dog belonging to James Campbell, of Lower Chanceford township, was recently bitten and became mad, and quite a number of other dogs and some cattle in the neighborhood have been taken with the disease and killed. XLIST CONGRESS.

(SECOND SESSION.)

SENATE: The San Domingo Business—Alleged Improper Conduct of Gen. Babcock—Indian Appropriation Bill Passed. HOUSE: The Cuban Bonds Expose—The Currency Bill Debated and Placed at the Foot of the List, by Adjournment Pending a Motion for the Previous Question.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 8, 1870.

SENATE.

Mr. FERRY presented a memorial from Mr. Hatch, setting forth his rights as an American citizen had been violated in his unjustifiable arrest, imprisonment and sentence to death by the Dominican authorities, and that his release was prevented by the interposition of Gen. Babcock, an officer of the United States army, who was acting as Commissioner for the annexation of San Domingo.

Mr. FERRY commented upon the case, asserting that Babcock had stated the imprisonment of Hatch was necessary to prevent him divulging in Washington certain objections to the ratification of the Dominican treaty. If the truth of this assertion was shown, Babcock deserved no longer to be an officer of the United States.

Mr. SUMNER—He ought to be cashiered at once.

Mr. FERRY moved the reference of the matter to the Committee on Foreign Relations, with instructions to send for persons and papers.

Mr. CHANDLER said Hatch was a troublesome, worthless scoundrel, who, without any authority, had given a certificate to a ship of war to leave the port of San Domingo to prey upon the Dominican Government, and in various ways co-operated with the rebels. He thought the great mistake of that Government was they had not executed him.

Mr. FERRY said Hatch was a resident of the town in which he himself lived. He knew him and would trust to his honor and integrity as quickly as he would trust the Senator from Michigan. After the exceedingly vile language of that gentleman it was necessary a word should be said in defense of Mr. Hatch.

Mr. SUMNER considered the question not a personal one, but as involving the graver question of the attempt of an army officer to negotiate a treaty of the United States, and for that purpose lending himself to a machination to keep an American citizen in prison.

Mr. NYE objected to reference to the Committee on Foreign Relations, of which Mr. Sumner was Chairman, in view of that Senator's assertion that General Babcock should be cashiered at once. That language was unbecoming any man who was to sit as a judge upon a case, as it committed him against the accused in advance of hearing.

Mr. SUMNER said his remark implied a consideration of all the facts in the case.

Mr. NYE moved to refer the matter to a special committee of five, appointed by the chair.

The Vice-President desired to be relieved from making appointments, but several Senators objected, Mr. MORTON remarking it had been the invariable custom of the chair to appoint.

Mr. CARPENTER wanted a full investigation, but not by a committee that had prejudged the case. He thought this a fit opportunity for some investigation by the Chairman of that Committee—the "be all and end all" of that committee—into the wrongs upon American citizens in Cuba.

Mr. THAYER was not to be drawn into a crusade against an officer of the government upon sinister motives. He felt confident that the officer would come out of the investigation unscathed, and the charge be proven unfounded.

Mr. PATTERSON, a member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, denied that the Chairman, Mr. Sumner, was the "be all and end all" of that Committee, and reminded the Senator from Wisconsin that each member of that Committee had a judgment of his own upon every measure before them. As to the San Domingo treaty, he believed they were nearly equally divided, two, and perhaps three, members being favorable to it. He protested against the injustice inflicted upon the Foreign Committee.

Mr. CARPENTER inquired what was the injustice complained of?

Mr. PATTERSON replied it was the remark of Mr. Carpenter and others that the committee had committed itself upon the Dominican treaty, when the committee had not uttered one word concerning it.

Mr. DRAKE objected to placing the investigation in the hands of the Foreign Committee, as possibly leading to a double purpose, the impeachment of Gen. Babcock and defeat of the Dominican treaty.

Mr. SUMNER defended the Committee from the assault made upon it. The case was one of an American citizen sweltering in a tropical prison to carry out the machinations of an American officer. He referred to the composition of the Committee on Foreign Relations as proof of its integrity, and intimated that the public reports in connection with the subject demanded attention.

Mr. SCOTT said if information of the conduct of the agents of the President of the United States was needed, some other means of obtaining it should be resorted to. If the Senate required further light for its guidance in ratifying the treaty, it might obtain it more readily than by this indirect way of assailing the President.

After further discussion Mr. SUMNER said he preferred reference to a special committee, and suggested to make the number of the committee seven.

The suggestion was accepted by Mr. FERRY, when the motion for a special committee of seven was adopted without division.

The Indian Appropriation bill was proceeded with.

Mr. Pomeroy's amendment for the removal of the Osage Indians was agreed to and various other amendments were debated.

The Vice President announced the Special Committee to investigate the imprisonment of Mr. Hatch by the Dominican Government as Messrs. Nye, Ferry, Howard, Williams, Warner, Schurz and Vickers.

The Senate went into executive session and about an hour after took a recess.

Evening Session.—The Senate resumed the consideration of the Indian bill.

An amendment offered by Mr. PRATT was adopted, appropriating $178,000 and $48,000 interest to pay the Pottawattomie Indians, being balances due them under stipulations in eleven different treaties from 1795 to 1864.

Various amendments were discussed and the bill passed finally.

The apportionment bill was then taken up and considered, and at 10:30 the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. SARGENT introduced a bill to amend the act of May 30th, 1863, for the survey and sale of public lands, by providing that money deposited for survey shall be credited as part payment for lands. Passed.

Mr. HOY, from the Committee on Invalid Pensions, reported a bill to amend the supplementary pension act of July 16, 1866, by providing that persons who have lost the sight of both eyes, both hands, or both feet in the service, if so disabled as to require permanent aid or attendance of other persons, shall be paid arrears of pension from the passage of that act to the date of their disability, at the rate of twenty-five dollars per month. Passed.

Mr. PAINE introduced a joint resolution directing the Secretary of War to transfer to the National Asylum for disabled soldiers, in Milwaukee, six pieces of condemned ordnance, to be placed in the soldiers' cemetery there. Passed.

Mr. NEGLEY, from the Conference Committee on the supply of artificial limbs to disabled soldiers, made a report, which was agreed to.

Mr. FITCH had read an article from the Washington Star, summarizing a recent correspondence in the New York Evening Post, implicating him in the matter of professed disclosures as to the corrupt use of Cuban bonds, and stated that so far as he was concerned it was an unmitigated falsehood, and the author a wicked and cowardly liar. He called upon the Chairman of the Sub-Committee investigating the subject to state whether any evidence was presented tending to implicate him in any manner.

Mr. BUTLER, Chairman of the Sub-Committee, said there was no evidence whatever to implicate the gentleman from Nevada in any improper transaction in relation to Cuba or anything else.

Mr. FITCH added that he did not know and never met the alleged agent in the transaction, N. B. Taylor, and had never met or conversed with anybody connected with the Cuban Junta, or with any movement for Cuban independence, until after he had made a speech in the House in favor of the motion, after which he had been called upon by some gentlemen who thanked him for the words he had spoken. No man who had called on him had insulted him by intimating that in the event of the success of that government he should expect anything but their gratitude and regard. The purpose of that lie was as obvious as the lie itself. In a few days the House was to act on the question whether or not Spain was to be helped to crush Cuba, and it has been conjectured by members of the Spanish embassy that if such slanders could be circulated against such members, some gentlemen might be afraid to express their sentiments on the subject. So they went to the cost of a dinner, or a five dollar bill, to somebody, to send out the first note of slander. He expected the whole pack would be yelping in chorus on Monday. So far as his own action was concerned, he would deem himself recreant to his duties and manhood if he allowed the cry of a pack of hungry Cayotes to swerve him at any time from speaking what his tongue had to say in behalf of a people struggling for liberty.

The House then resumed the consideration of the currency bill.

Mr. INGERSOLL advocated an increase of the circulating medium, and protested against resuming specie payment when the country was a debtor nation, and had not more than $150,000,000 or $200,000,000. The idea of specie payment was a delusion, cheat and fraud. He hoped the people of the United States would see that no State bank or private bank should ever be organized on a specie basis.

Mr. ALLISON offered an amendment reducing the proposed new issue from $90,000,000 to $40,000,000.

Mr. RANDALL argued this was not the time for pressing the bill, and said he would move to postpone it. He advocated an amendment he had offered, authorizing the issue of $800,000,000 in greenbacks and the redemption and cancellation of an equal amount of National bank notes, with the prohibition of any further issue of National bank notes. The circulation should be all greenbacks, and if it had been specie payments would have been reached before this time.

Mr. BURCHARD moved to amend by inserting additional amendments, requiring National banks to keep in coin, or in coin certificates, interest falling due on bonds deposited in the Treasury until the reserve required to be kept shall consist wholly of coin and coin certificates.

Mr. COBURN thought this not the time for any radical changes in currency. All that was asked was an increase in currency so as to supply a fair distribution of it to sections at present destitute. The distribution should be on the basis of population. He argued the first section of the bill did not actually increase the circulation $95,000,000, but only $57,000,000. That was owing to a peculiarity in the Banking law. He declared no more radical measures of contraction could be adopted than the pending bill, and therefore it could never obtain his assent. His proposition was to redistribute $50,000,000 and re-issue $44,000,000 of greenbacks in place of the three per cent certificates now used as reserve. This would save the Government $350,000 a year. He favored the adoption of the first section, without any of the succeeding sections, and the increase of circulation would be only $57,000,000, and then the South and West would still have less circulation than before the war.

Mr. HOTCHKISS opposed the section for the issue of four and a half per cent. bonds, but approved the sections authorizing the establishment of National banks and issue of specie payment notes, regarding it an approach to resumption.

Mr. TOWNSEND was particularly opposed to the fifth section, requiring banks to surrender their six per cent. bonds and take instead of them four and a half per cent. bonds as a basis of circulation. He conceived it a matter of bad faith toward those effective and wonderful institutions.

Mr. SMITH, of Oregon, argued against the bill and in favor of a Government currency as against National bank currency.

Mr. BURCHARD advocated the amendment offered by him to-day and discussed generally the provisions of the bill.

Mr. WELKER moved to strike out all but the 11th and 12th sections.

Mr. GARFIELD, chairman of the Banking Committee, by direction of the Committee, and as a matter of comity toward the Committee of Ways and Means, moved to strike out the funding sections of the bill, sections 3d, 4th and 5th, and allow all bank circulation issued to banks now existing or that may be reafter be.

Mr. STEVENSON said the amendment just offered by the chairman of the Banking Committee refuted his first and chief objection to the bill. He argued in favor of expansion rather than contraction, and declared if they could not have a moderate degree of expansion they would not have contraction; if they could not advance they would not retreat.

Mr. HOLMAN expressed the conviction that the bill would fail, and condemned the national banking system, declaring that the whole machinery of the Government seemed in its interest. No Government had ever shown so much favor to capital and so much indifference to labor as the United States Government within the last ten years. This bill he believed was another movement in the interest of capital.

Mr. PACKER advocated the bill and Messrs. KELLY, LYNCH and KERR opposed it. The latter was opposed to the bill because it would operate as a contraction of currency. He declared himself in favor of withdrawing every dollar of national bank circulation and of substituting for it greenbacks, so as to make the aggregate greenback currency equivalent to all existing currency.

Mr. BINGHAM moved to amend the bill by striking out part of the second section, allowing cancellation of greenbacks, and striking out all of the succeeding sections except the eleventh. He explained the effect of the amendment, and advocated the striking out of everything that related to gold banking and that encouraged gold gambling. His amendment would leave an additional circulation of $50,000,000, and would relieve the people of three per cent. interest now paid on those certificates.

Mr. GARFIELD in reply said those gold sections, which he wished struck out, had passed the Senate after the most elaborate and careful debate, and with all the limits of the banking law applied to them. He offered as a substitute the original bill with sections 3, 4, 5, 6 and 12 struck out, and with a section inserted instead of the funding sections.

After discussion and explanations an understanding was had that all amendments offered would be considered as pending and were ordered printed, only two, however, to be regarded as amendments to the substitute.

Mr. INGERSOLL remarked there was no advantage in that, for they would be told to-morrow all these amendments were ruled out by the substitute.

In reply to inquiries the Speaker stated the substitute offered by the Chairman would take precedence of all other substitutes, and if the first were adopted it would not be in order to entertain any other substitute.

Much confusion and misunderstanding ensued as to the parliamentary position of the bill and the various substitutes and amendments, but finally an explanation of the Speaker was satisfactory and Mr. GARFIELD moved the previous question.

Mr. NEGLEY moved the bill be laid on the table.

Mr. DICKEY moved to adjourn.

The Speaker in reply to a question, said if the House adjourned without seconding the previous question the bill was no longer before the House.

Mr. Dickey persisted in his motion, but the House refused to adjourn.

The question was then put on Mr. Negley's motion, a count by the Speaker resulting 65 to 66.

The yeas and nays were then ordered.

Mr. ELDRIDGE renewed the motion to adjourn.

A vote by tellers, amid much excitement, resulted 76 to 73.

The Speaker modified his statement as to the effect of adjournment on the bill, and said should the House now adjourn, the pending question being shall the bill be engrossed and read a third time, the bill would go to the bottom of the bills on the Speaker's table.

The question was taken and the House agreed to adjourn, thus virtually killing the bill—yeas 79, nays 75.

There was a good deal of excitement when the probable result of the vote became known, and efforts were made by the friends of the bill, to induce members to change their votes from aye to no. A few changes were made, but not enough to affect the result.

The Speaker announced the bill would go to the bottom of the bills on the Speaker's table, and the House at 5:45 adjourned.

Peck, of Massachusetts, second; Hawley O. Rittenhouse, of New Jersey, third; Henry W. Schaeffer, of Illinois, fourth; and Jno. Hulisura, of Arizona, fifth.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, June 8.—The steamer Dorian, laying cable between West Indies and Panama, was wrecked off Bermuda Islands, and of the crew and construction corps fifty-nine were drowned, and but three saved.

The Secretary of the English Lloyds positively denies that the steamer Chieftain sailed with the intention of assisting the Cuban insurgents.

The newspapers comment upon Goldwin Smith's letter to D'Israeli, branding him as a coward for the bitter allusion to himself in the book "Lothair." The Telegraph thinks the sketch is bitter, but is provoked at Smith's long string of insults. The News admits that the term coward is not ordinarily applicable to D'Israeli, but is upon this occasion.

Wolff's Continental Telegraphic Company, of Berlin, with sub-agencies in the principal cities of Europe, knows nothing of any recent disturbance in Roumania. The manager of that Company declares the telegram of Adolph Cremieux to have been exaggerated, and says that all reports touching the slaughter or banishment of Roumanian Jews are baseless.

LONDON, June 8.—Diligent inquiry here and on the Continent fails to discover any foundation for the terrible stories from Roumania, published in the United States.

From various agricultural papers of England are gleaned the following in relation to the growing crops: Wheat looks finely everywhere and a crop larger than the average is expected. Grass is unusually thin and the hay prospects are discouraging. Oats, barley and beans look poorly; farmers count on about half a crop. Of potatoes and other root crops the yield will be about as usual.

There is still some excitement and anxiety about Fenian operations. The Pall Mall Gazette anticipates a continuation of Fenian outrages and thinks the Fenian leaders should be forced to some show of activity in order to sustain their sinking reputations.

Yesterday a melancholy accident occurred off Hastings. A large number of people were out in a pleasure yacht, when a squall capsized the vessel. The number of lives lost certainly exceeds twelve. The calamity has cast a gloom over Hastings, where all the unfortunates resided.

Telegrams received yesterday from New York, announcing the rumored loss of the steamer Dorian with the West India cable, caused deep regret. The hope is everywhere expressed that the story is groundless.

A well informed correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says the leading ministerial reform measures will be shelved for the year. The Land bill, however, is safe and probably the Educational bill.

A new scheme for regulating admissions into civil service is promulgated.

The telegraphic service of the Kingdom is still deranged.

A distressing accident occurred at the Alhambra Concert Hall last night. While the ballet was in progress and the scene crowded with dancers, one of the large trap doors in the centre of the stage gave way. A number of danseuses were violently precipitated into the space under the stage which is unusually deep and filled with machinery and theatrical lumber. Eleven of the unfortunate girls were badly injured, some it is feared fatally. The catastrophe caused a panic in the audience which, however, had no serious results.

ITALY.

FLORENCE, June 8.—It is reported the Italian Government has in its possession conclusive evidence that Mazzini is personally implicated in rebel movements on the Swiss frontier. The fact will be brought to the attention of the Swiss Government and a demand made for his surrender or expulsion from Switzerland.

TURKEY.

PARIS, June 8.—A telegram from Bucharest received in this city asserts that the affair at Botusochany was simply a riot. The Roumanian Israelitish Committee have warmly thanked the Turkish Government for its prompt and energetic action in crushing the movement against them at its outset.

FRANCE.

PARIS, June 8.—The appointment of Prevost Parodal as successor to M. Berthemy, as Minister to Washington, receives the bitter animosity of the Imperialists, and will probably result in the revocation of the nomination.

CINCINNATI.

International Typographical Association—Free Baptist Missionary Society—Suit for Non-Payment of Tax.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, June 8.—In the International Typographical Union to-day the Committee on Colored Printers reported that they believed it would be assuming an arbitrary power, contrary to the progress of civilization and advancement of this enlightened age, for this Union to legislate on the color of printers seeking admission to Unions, and recommended that the matter be left to the discretion of subordinate Unions. The report was adopted—61 ayes, 11 nays.

The Committee on Subordinate Unions reported that custom should regulate wages until a scale of prices was adopted.

A resolution was introduced providing for the establishment of a Home for disabled printers.

At the meeting of the American Free Baptist Missionary Society the resignation of Rev. James Poindexter, elected President in his absence yesterday, was read, and after spending a good part of the afternoon in consideration it was accepted and Rev. Richard Debaptiste, colored, of Chicago, elected to fill the vacancy. Resolutions were adopted thanking A. R. Post, retiring President, for long faithfulness, and requesting him to write a history of the Society. The report of the Committee on Education was adopted, declaring the education of colored people as of the highest importance and expressing the belief that the coming generation would know no color. The report declares the action of American Baptist Home Missionary Society, in petitioning Congress to repeal the charter of the National Theological Institute at Washington, an unwarrantable interference with individual and corporation rights.

Suit was brought to-day by the United States against Wm. Harris and Joseph R. Huston, of Dayton, for the recovery of $500,000 for non payment of tax on distilled spirits, removed and sold contrary to law from Lockville, Montgomery county, in 1867 and '68.

St. Louis, Vandalia and Terre Haute Railroad Opening.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

TERRE HAUTE, June 8.—The grand excursion to inaugurate the St. Louis, Vandalia and Terre Haute Railroad reached this city from Indianapolis about ten o'clock this morning. There were seven magnificent coaches, containing about two hundred and twenty-five persons, mostly prominent citizens, from the central portion of the State, the press being largely represented. At this point about one hundred persons joined the party and three coaches were added. The train left soon after ten o'clock, passing over the magnificent new iron bridge that spans the Wabash, and proceeding out upon the new road.

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—The railroad excursionists from Indianapolis, who were celebrating the opening of the St. Louis, Vandalia and Terre Haute Railroad, were met at Highland, thirty miles east of here, this afternoon by a committee representing the St. Louis City Council and Merchants Exchange of St. Louis. The train, consisting of ten splendid new cars, then proceeded to St. Louis, under the escort of the committee, where they arrived at 6:30, and were immediately conveyed to the Southern Hotel. The party number over four hundred, and comprise the Mayor, members of City Council and prominent citizens of Louisville; representatives of City Council and Board of Trade of Indianapolis and Terre Haute, a large number of citizens from towns along the route, and many railroad men. Nearly one hundred ladies accompanied the party.

National Capital Removal Movement.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, June 8.—A well attended meeting in the National Capital removal interest was held at Masonic Hall to-night, at which Sherrard Clemens, of West Virginia, and B. R. Bonner, of this city, spoke. Clemens directed his attention mainly to remarks lately made by Mr. Drake, in the United States Senate, in opposition to removing the capital, and produced an array of scientific statistics which completely upset Mr. Drake's statement that the climate of Washington is far superior to that of St. Louis or any other point in the Mississippi Valley. He also administered to him a stirring rebuke on general principles and called him "the Senator from the District of Columbia," by way of reproach. The meeting was unexpectedly large and much interest manifested in the subject under discussion. A Finance Committee of prominent citizens was appointed to raise funds to carry out the programme for a National Convention at Cincinnati in October.

NEW YORK CITY.

Extraordinary Masonic Demonstration—Alleged Filibuster Scheme to Seize Mexico—Another Case of Fraud.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 8, 1870.

MASONIC DEMONSTRATION.

The grand procession of Free Masons this morning was in every respect a decided success. The weather was glorious, and the ground under foot was pleasant for walking. The column was formed in ten divisions, with the right resting on Fifth avenue, from Twenty-third street, Forty-sixth street, Sixth avenue, Thirty-fourth street and Fifth avenue, thence to Twenty-third street, where the right of the column halted and the Marshals opened their several divisions and the ceremonies of laying the corner stone were then commenced. The different Lodges with their insignia and banners presented a splendid appearance as they marched through the streets, and excited the admiration of the assembled multitude which lined the streets along the line of march. The procession was considered the finest display by the Masonic order ever witnessed in this city. More than forty thousand Masons participated in it.

FILIBUSTERING EXPEDITION TO MEXICO.

A special to the Herald, dated Brownsville, Texas, says: A formidable filibustering expedition is organizing against Mexico. The leaders of the expedition are to be former officers in the United States and Confederate armies. It is stated that General Rosecrans assumes supreme command, and the headquarters of the movement are in New York, with subordinate departments in Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, New Orleans, Houston, and other places. General J. Bankhead Magruder, commander of the New Orleans portion, is playing a prominent part. A grand passage over the Rio Grande into Mexico occurs two months hence. It is said that Escobedo, the commander of the Mexicans, and Rosecrans have come to an understanding whereby, for a consideration, the former permits the successful crossing of the filibusters. They are to enter the country in squads as emigrants, etc. Escobedo withdraws the Mexican troops from the borders, to enable the expedition to enter, organize and advance as military forces. A collision then takes place, Escobedo breaks and retreats in utter confusion, and then aids the filibusters in conquering the country, establishing, with Rosecrans or some one else at the head, a government which will ultimately be turned over to the United States authorities.

ANOTHER FRAUD.

Another fraud has come to light. Yesterday a man, creditably known to several houses in Wall street, bought of them 5-20 bonds to the amount of $35,000, $10,000 from each of three houses and $5,000 from a fourth house. In payment he offered checks which proved worthless. Frank & Gains, one of the houses from whom he obtained $10,000 in bonds, have advertised that they were fraudulently obtained. The swindler was a member of a tobacco house on Water street. The check given Frank & Gains was on the Chemical Bank. The office of the swindler on Water street is in possession of the sheriff's officers. Rumor says the individual has swindled tobacco merchants out of $200,000.

Refreshing Showers—Encouraging Condition of Crops—Railroad Election—Horse Thief Shot—American Institute of Homeopathy—Western Social Science Association.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 8.—It commenced raining about noon to-day and continued up to six o'clock, when it stopped. It will prove a great relief to crops in the vicinity of Chicago which have been suffering quite seriously from drouth.

Dispatches from De Witt and Logan counties, in this State, say they never had so fine a prospect for crops, excepting rye, as they now have. A dispatch from Jersey county says they had several refreshing showers recently, which have been of great benefit to the growing crops, which promise the most bountiful harvest. Dispatches also from Cedar Rapids and Waterloo, Iowa, say recent showers have improved the appearance of the crops. Wheat, oats and rye are looking splendidly in the vicinity of the former place. A large amount of corn has been planted and is in excellent condition.

The Sheriff of Pike county, Mo., yesterday shot a horse thief near Clarksville. When last heard from he was in a dying condition. He was trying to make his escape from the Sheriff when shot.

At a meeting to-day of the stockholders of the Chicago and Milwaukee Railroad the following gentlemen were chosen directors: Jno. F. Tracy, H. R. Pierson, Geo. L. Dunlap, Jno. B. Turner, H. H. Porter, H. H. Baxter, M. L. Sykes, Jr., A. G. Dulman, J. B. Redfield. The following officers were elected: John F. Tracy, President; H. R. Pierson, Vice President; A. L. Pritchard, Secretary and Treasurer; J. B. Redfield, Assistant Secretary.

The American Institute of Homeopathy met at ten o'clock to-day. Dr. Payne, of Bath, read a paper giving the Control Bureau report. Dr. Hale, of Chicago, presented a report on Physiology, Pathology and the curative action of bromide of potassium. He also presented a report relating to bromide of ammonium. Dr. Eggott, of Indianapolis, reported a case wherein new anasthetic of choral was given to cause insensibility during a severe surgical operation. A dose of seventy grains produced the desired result. The symptoms caused by the drug were carefully recorded, and although its effects were similar to chloroform, the author believed it much surer in causing insensibility to severe pain of surgical operations. Dr. Drake, Nashville, read a report on doses. He believed that the higher attenuations would penetrate farther and have more effect on many organizations than the massive doses. The Institute then adjourned.

At the P. M. session Dr. Durham, New York, presented a report of the Committee on Homeopathic Dispensatory. A resolution was passed to order the preparation of a dispensatory. Dr. Ludlam, Chicago, presented a report of the Committee of Bureau of Obstetrics, which was accepted. Dr. Saunders, of Cleveland, read a paper on atrophy of mamory glands and soreness of nipples, the result of injudicious toilet. The paper was an extensive exposition of the evils resulting from fashionable dress, so far as the breasts were concerned, to the women of America. Dr. Saunders, Cleveland, read a paper on the removal of an ovarian tumor of nine years' standing.

In the evening the members attended an entertainment given by Philip Hayne.

A meeting of the Directors of the Western Social Science Association was held this forenoon at the Sherman House, Dr. Walker, of Detroit, in the chair. The reports of the Corresponding Secretary and the Treasurer were read. The Corresponding Secretary recommended that authority be given to the Board of Directors to revise and simplify the present constitution; that steps be taken to closer affiliation with the American Association for the Promotion of Social Science; that provision be made for the publication of a volume of their transactions without delay, and that the Corresponding Secretary be authorized to commission some suitable person in each of the larger cities of the west to present the aim and work of the association to leading men and to solicit their co-operation. Mr. Villard, Secretary of the American Social Science Association, Rev. Mr. Collyer, of the Western Social Science Association, and others discussed the proper means of enlarging the association and promoting its objects. The report of the Treasurer was read and showed the association out of debt. The meeting then adjourned. The association assembled in Farwell Hall at two P. M., Judge Walker in the chair. The first paper read was by Rev. Dr. Wines, of New York, on the present state of prison reform in the United States. Dr. C. T. Wilbur, Jacksonville, Illinois, Principal of the School for Idiots and Feeble-minded Children, read a paper on those unfortunate classes. Wm. H. Churchman, Principal of the Blind Institution at Indianapolis, read a paper on the air we breathe. A letter was read from Governor Baker, Indiana, sympathizing with the objects of the association.

In the evening Rev. Dr. Post, of St. Louis, delivered a lecture on the teaching of social science.

Professor Goldwin Smith is here, and to-morrow night will deliver a lecture on the last political crisis in England.

MICHIGAN.

The Legislature Called in Special Session.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

DETROIT, June 8.—Governor Baldwin has summoned the Legislature to meet in extraordinary session at Lansing, July 27th. His proclamation recites the facts that the late railroad aid decision has left a large number of bonds in the hands of innocent holders, on which the principal and interest cannot be paid until some validating action is taken in the form of a constitutional amendment, and that in the regular course of procedure such amendment could not be submitted until 1873. The proclamation states that he will lay specific business before the Legislature in a special message.

A Perplexing Experience.

A friend of mine whom I met in Charleston, a Turkish Nestorian, was smoking in the forward car when a very elegantly dressed young lady of complexion about as light as his own, entered the car and took her seat. She was so refined in her dress and appearance that he supposed that she had made a mistake, and gallantly suggested to her that the ladies' car would be more agreeable, when she stated that her color, not perceptible to a stranger, prevented her entering there. He conversed with her, and found her intelligent and educated. She was the daughter of one of the wealthiest men of South Carolina. He was that evening publicly ridiculed at the hotel for talking to a "nigger girl" by men who would have done well had they shared her refinement. A few days afterward, remembering the incident, and seeing a lady of apparently mixed blood in the first-class car, he thought she had made a mistake, and to save anything that might wound her feelings, he politely suggested to her to change to the forward, second-class car. She colored up, highly insulted, and, calling her husband from outside, screamed, "This man calls me a nigger!" The husband got into a towering rage, and came near laying violent hands on my poor innocent friend. He was only restrained by some passengers, who explained his position as a foreigner unacquainted with American pecularities.—From the Revolution at the South, in the June number of Lippincott's Magazine.

Something New in Wood.

[From the San Francisco Alta, 13th.]

We have been shown a sample of very aromatic wood, sent down from Alaska, which seems to be a species of yellow cedar, having a most pungent and singular odor, entirely different from anything we have ever encountered. The aromatic nature of the wood renders it extremely valuable for trunks to contain woolen clothing, furs, and such goods as are liable to destruction from moths, and admirably calculated for shelving for cloth and clothing stores. It is an excellent material for boat building also, inasmuch as the toredo, or boring worm will not touch it—on the contrary turns up his sharp nose at it. As the wood is cheap and can be shipped here and sold at a moderate price, it will, no doubt, come into use. The dust and shavings, if spread over the ground, is death and destruction to ants and vermin, and would be a luxury to any dog for a bed, as it would leave him to sleep undisturbed by his natural enemy, the little industrious flea, which, in California, every man and woman pursueth. When in Alaska, Seward had several logs of it sent down, and thence East, to be used in his house. The wood is fine grain and admits of a high polish.

GAZETTE BUILDING:

THURSDAY, JUNE 9, 1870.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 53½.

BONDS at Frankfort, 95½@95¾.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 113¾@113⅞.

MR. GARFIELD has made an ingenious and striking exposition of the merits of his bill to increase banking facilities, but does not change the prevailing impression in the Capital, that the measure will ultimately fall to the ground.

THE Oregon election seems to have been carried by both parties, the Republicans having the Legislature, with an U. S. Senator to elect, and the opposition securing the Governor and State ticket generally. The returns generally show Republican gains.

GOVERNOR GEARY was in the city yesterday. In the afternoon, he left for Uniontown and will return hither to-day, probably to remain here until Monday morning. He is engaged in the personal examination of the penal and charitable institutions of this part of the Commonwealth.

IT is worthy of remembrance that, on the bill, which passed the House last week, to reduce the taxation of the people by some sixty-five millions of dollars annually, every Republican member voted for this alleviation of the public burthens, while thirty-five—just one-half of the Democratic minority—went solid against it.

SENSATIONAL reporters at Washington insist that attempts have been made to bribe Congressmen to favor the Cuban cause against Spain. An investigation is proposed, when we may discover what is the exact cash value of Cuban bonds. On this point a great deal of light might be thrown by interrogating the managers of some of the Eastern newspapers which have been bolstering up the cause of free Cuba for a year past.

IT IS a little remarkable that, only a few weeks ago, at a private meeting of "influential Republican journalists" at Washington, it was gravely proposed to organize for carrying every close district in the Union, at the next election, against its member who should continue to oppose "revenue reform." Grasping at a tempting shadow, these "influential Republicans" seem to have lost what little substance they already had. Instead of defeating any protectionists, they have been deserted en masse by all the Allisons and Judds, every man of whom let down at the knees when the crisis came and voted for a bill which these "influential journalists" pronounce a "dead swindle." Revenue-reform is itself so clearly shorn that we shall hear no more talk of its going after other people's wool.

THE New York Tribune says, of the House bill to take off a part of the present taxation:

> We heartily rejoice that without their aid, and in spite of their false friendship, the Republican party has been able to add to the financial honors of this Administration by offering a reduction of Sixty-five Millions in the popular burdens. The payment of the Debt goes on. The prospects of funding the remainder at a largely reduced rate of interest are brighter. The Government fulfills and means to fulfill all its obligations to the letter. And it is able, meanwhile, to take two-fifths off the duty on Coffee and Tea, to reduce largely the duty on Sugar, to concede two dollars per ton to the perpetual clamor against the duty on Pig Iron, and to add largely to the articles on the free list. All this is accomplished in the bill which, after the most violent opposition, has just been forced through the House. The bill passed is not altogether such as we would have it; but it is a measure of substantial and in the main judicious relief,—opposed, wherever opposition seemed safe, by the Revenue Reformers, and carried by the persistent efforts of the Tariff men. We joyfully announce its passage, and look confidently to the Senate for approval.

THE annexed paragraph, from the Philadelphia Post, conveys admonitions which this journal has been reiterating for months. The subject merits the closest and most faithful attention of the people. Says the Post:

> As the delegate election approaches the candidates for the various offices are redoubling their efforts to secure the prizes so covetously sought. We would caution the people to look out for those whose former actions have gained them an almost criminal notoriety. Trust no man again with your confidence who has once violated it, and betrayed every interest committed to him. The legislative ticket should particularly be looked after. We want no more such disgraceful scenes as distinguished the last session of the Legislature. Some of those who were prominent in every work of corruption last winter are again seeking the opportunity to practice their nefarious business, while others of them are striving to obtain positions where the opportunities for plunder are greater than those formerly enjoyed. These men should be incontinently spurned by every man who desires an honest and capable administration of public affairs. They are too well known to require mention. See that such fellows receive that condemnation their acts so justly merit.

WE HEARTILY THANK the Governor of the Commonwealth for his most seasonable and impressive appeal to his fellow citizens, without distinctions of party, to see to it now that no candidates shall be put in nomination, for the next Legislature, except such as may be trusted to protect the Treasury from any renewal of the attempts of last winter to divert the securities in the sinking-fund from their constitutional application to the payment of the State debt.

The Governor states the case fully and plainly. We need add nothing, either by way of argument or explanation, to the substance of his address. We shall not doubt that it will fall upon sensitive ears, reaching the understandings and commanding the convictions of the people.

—Let us lament any apparent necessity, as exhibited by the circumstances, recent, present or future, that our good Old Commonwealth should be placed in such an attitude before the peoples of her sister States. A state of things which seems to demand that her Governor should now interpose in this direct and powerful appeal to her people certainly offers a situation which must be regarded with painful anxiety by all good citizens.

NEXT to the thirty-five Democrats, who had manhood enough to vote squarely against a proposition of which they disapproved, we don't hear of any people who feel more of chagrin in the success of the new tariff and tax-bill before the House, than do those irregular light skirmishers, of the free-trade school, who call themselves revenue-reformers, every man of whom, in the House the other day, succumbed to the pressure and actually voted for it. They wanted to see the bill defeated, but were not men enough to stand up and say so. Every "reformer" in the crowd "went back" upon his own opinions and gave his hesitating assent to a bill which one of their editorial friends at Chicago denounces as a "dead swindle." Brave fellows, these revenue-reformers, who intrigue against a measure privately, and then go upon the record in its favor? It is easy enough to understand the true reasons for this inconsistency. It was simply because they had no faith in their own opinions, no confidence in the popular support for them, and not courage enough to vote as they had talked, and then appeal to the people on the issue. Of course, all their "revenue reform" talk during the previous part of the session now goes for worse than nothing. In this connection, we may remark that the "reform" journals, which denounce the new bill as a "dead swindle," don't utter a solitary whimper of censure upon the "reform" members who yielded to the pressure and voted for it. Mr. Judd was one of these, unless he dodged, yet his friends of the Chicago press, revenue reformers and all, are as dumb as oysters over his practical illustration of political smartness in looking one way and rowing another.

A JUST APPEAL.

The annexed paragraph, from the Harrisburg Topic, needs to be prefaced with but a single remark. The print to which the writer alludes is not recognized, in any responsible quarter in Western Pennsylvania, as being inside of the Republican organization. As a gift enterprise, it has no political standing whatever. Otherwise, the article from the Topic is both timely and instructive. It is as follows:

> There is a disposition among a certain class of Republicans to foment strife in the ranks of our organization, merely that they may be empowered to wreak their vengeful hate on one another, even if it be at the expense of a defeat or the disgrace of the entire party. Thus, the Pittsburgh Commercial takes every occasion which it can seize to abuse and libel General Cameron, to gratify its Curtin stockholders, and enable Mr. Brigham to repay Ex-Governor Curtin for having presented him (Brigham) with his (Curtin's) stock in that concern. Now, what has the entire party to do with all this, and why should the Commercial make use of its private spite, or the means to exhibit its personal gratitude, incessantly and inconsistently to pitch into Senator Cameron? That Senator is faithfully doing his duty, and is in no way, that we can see, interfering with the harmony of the Republican party. On the other hand, Republican organs near and at the Capital of the State lose no opportunity to attack Gov. Curtin, insinuating that he made money unfairly during the war, and endeavoring to create the impression that he is what Jerry Black calls an "incompetent man, lacking integrity." While these attacks are being made on Curtin, he is quietly attending to his diplomatic duties in Europe, winning there new honors for his country and larger reputation as a man of ability for himself. In the name of both these gentlemen, and for the sake of the Republican party, we implore the ribald journalists thus engaged in their abuse, to suspend their vile labors and pay some attention to matters of more importance to the State and the nation. The great mass of the people take no interest in the quarrels and jealousy presumed to exist between Simon Cameron and Andrew G. Curtin. We write "presumed" because we do not know that such a state of feeling exists between these gentlemen. We have been in the company of both, and never heard either speak disparagingly of the other. But the hounds who claim to bark for each, they are the ones who keep up this eternal howling, showing their teeth to their betters, instead of going to work on each others' hide; doing what they can to rend our great organization, when they would really do the country a service if they destroy each other. We have a sincere respect for both Cameron and Curtin. Each in his way has done the country a vast service, and both will occupy a creditable places in the page of history. But, let it be frankly and fearlessly spoken; both have been cursed with the meanest bosom friends that ever fastened themselves on great men. In this respect, Cameron and Curtin have both made fatal mistakes.

ADDRESS OF GOV. GEARY.

To the Freemen of Pennsylvania.

FELLOW CITIZENS: In receiving the various testimonials of confidence which have been conferred upon me by the people of my native State, I am deeply sensible of the circumstances under which they have been bestowed, and of the corresponding duties and responsibilities imposed upon me during the fulfilment of my term of the Chief Executive office in your State Government. Notwithstanding a heart animated with pure and upright intentions towards the welfare of the Commonwealth, and with all the faculties allotted to me unceasingly devoted to its service, I feel deeply conscious that I stand in need of your indulgence, while I thus exercise one of the prerogatives of the position of Governor—to address the people, when, in his opinion, he is justified by circumstances affecting their welfare and interests; and to expect from them an honest, candid and liberal support in return.

With such circumstances now before the people of Pennsylvania, I feel that I would be recreant to my duty, ungrateful to the generous people, and untrue to myself, if I should fail to express to you my opinions upon a subject of public concern, which demands from you immediate attention and prompt, intelligent and independent action.

The inviolability of the Sinking Fund by which your public debt is to be reduced and finally extinguished, must be maintained against all attacks upon it, whether open or secret! A public debt is not a blessing but an evil!—an evil not to be measured by the amount of the direct pecuniary burden it imposes upon the people, but by its whole effect,—the entire amount of all its consequences. These consequences have been pointed out so fully by the fathers of the republic, and by the most reliable writers upon political economy; and a conviction of them, is so deeply impressed on the minds of all reflecting men, that I need not recapitulate them; nor insist even upon their existence.

The State debt must be paid—paid honestly and to the utmost farthing, and as soon as it can reasonably be done—to this doctrine I am irrevocably pledged in every possible manner—and the credit of the State must be kept up to its highest point, in order that this important object may be most readily accomplished. No belief or suspicion of bad faith or of profligacy, on our part, should be permitted to get abroad or to derive the slightest support or countenance from the conduct of our government in any of its branches. It should be understood everywhere that we have an incorruptible and faithful judiciary; a Legislature and an Executive disposed to work together, and to co-operate heartily in maintaining the honor of the Commonwealth.

The operation of the Sinking Fund was temporarily interrupted, or rather weakened, by the recent war, but by the blessing of Heaven upon the patriotic efforts of the nation, the days of peace have returned. There can now be no excuse for diverting from that fund any of the monies pledged to it by the Constitution and the laws, nor for tampering in any manner with its regular administration.

But it is known to you that a bold and daring attempt was made in the Legislature during its last session, to invade the Treasury and seize the proceeds of the sale of the public works of the State, deposited there, in the Sinking Fund, for the use of certain affiliated corporations of this Commonwealth, and that that attempt was defeated only by the interposition of the Executive veto. This was to me an ungracious and unpleasant task, to resist the majority in the Legislature composed of Senators and Representatives chosen by you, under the regular forms of the Constitution, presumably for their intelligence and integrity, and it was inexpedient, perhaps, as a question of personal interest and ease, that I should incur the hostility of powerful enemies by the course adopted. But I saw before me the open path of duty, pointed out by the clear words of the Constitution and by my oath of office; and I did not hesitate to treat the subject with the firmness and action which the urgency of the case required.

The bill to distribute the securities in the Sinking fund among several newly incorporated railroad companies, and to substitute for them very inferior, if not utterly worthless obligations, was sent to me only on the day next preceding the final adjournment of the Legislature, although it had passed both Houses about two weeks before. Borrowing time from the usual hours of rest, I was enabled, the next morning, to return the bill with my objections to the House in which it originated. There its further consideration was postponed, and no final judgment upon it was pronounced. It stands now among the open questions which may be revived at a future session. It may again be introduced and passed next winter, or at any subsequent time, without embarrassment from any prior decision of either House against it. And if the membership of both Houses shall be so made up, at any time that a two-third vote for the measure can be obtained in each, its enactment into a law will become certain, and the burden of your taxes will be be inevitably increased and prolonged.

An Executive veto is in the nature of an appeal to the people, to enable them to pass upon controverted questions involving grave considerations of public policy or safety. Upon a question of this kind, in which every man, woman and child in the Commonwealth is interested, this great prerogative of the Executive, conferred by the Constitution, should be fearlessly exercised. Is not this such an occasion? Is not the subject to be considered vitally important? Is it not urgent that you should determine it for yourselves, in the selection of men to represent you in the Legislature of 1871?

Be this as it may, this question is in fact submitted for your judgment. The issue upon it was distinctly and openly made at the last session between the Legislature and the Executive, and that issue is now before you for arbitrament, and you should instruct your representatives, in each and every county, in accordance with your wishes and determination upon this important subject.

Should you, by your indifference to the question, or by a careless and uncalculating choice of the persons to represent you in the Legislature, encourage and strengthen the combination of men who desire and threaten to invade your treasury, rest assured that the vast sum now sacredly devoted to the payment of the public debt will be seized and carried off.

The nine and a half millions of dollars of securities in that fund, with all the interest to accrue thereon, will be voted away from the people's treasury; the State credit will be prostrated; your taxes will be increased, and your Executive will be impotent to 'elp you. If, on the contrary, alive to your interests and honor, you sustain the appeal sent to you from the Executive Chamber, and you are now about to select your candidates for Representatives, you should determine to reaffirm, with emphasis, the command of the Constitution; that "no part of the said Sinking Fund shall be used or applied otherwise than in the extinguishment of the public debt," you will strike a just, severe and timely blow at corrupt legislation and protect yourselves against grievous pecuniary loss.

The lesson will not be lost. Its salutary effect will be great and lasting. Both for the present and the future will it improve the tone of public morals, repress the unblushing effrontery and corruption of the lobby; curtail the influence of arrogant corporations; and secure the sincere commendation of all good and patriotic men.

The assault upon the treasury, in the passage of the nine and a half million bill, though the most conspicuous example of the evil influences of corporations upon the Legislature, is not the only one. It possesses pre-eminent importance, but it does not stand alone. Then, fellow citizens, has not the time come for determining the question of title to sovereign power in this Commonwealth? Is that power a rightful and indefeasible estate of the people, or does it reside in the incorporated companies created by our laws? Will you, with your eyes open, consciously surrender the control over your own representatives, and give your consent that corporations shall decide your laws? Shall your Government be pure, patriotic and just, true to yourselves and true to sound principles of administration; or shall it be the instrument of corporate ambition and avarice, and an object of public jest, ridicule and reproach? Or, in other words, shall corporations supercede the Government and become masters of the people?

And now, my fellow citizens, with this warning, I leave this important subject in your hands, trusting that you will be inspired with the will and the resolution to defend the integrity of your Government and to preserve unsullied the credit and the honor of the Commonwealth.

New Brighton Public School Entertainment.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW BRIGHTON, June 8, 1870.

The Public Schools have just closed their year's work. Last week was spent in examinations. They past off creditably. Mr. Van Pelt, the Superintendent, has been untiring in his efforts and the teachers have done their part acceptably. They have given public entertainments in Concert Hall the past two evenings. Some of the performances were excellent and nearly all of them were good. The proceeds are to be used in getting apparatus for the schools, such as globes, charts, etc. They will realize quite a sum, as the hall was crowded both nights.

The Good Templars held a quarterly Convention at Darlington, at which a Covenanter minister caused a slight stir by an opposition speech.

The Beaver County Sabbath School Association is holding its semi-annual Convention at Rochester to-day and to-morrow. A good time is expected. More anon.

NAPOLEON IV.—The Paris correspondent of the Brussels Gazette writes: "I have made a great many inquiries about the mental, moral and physical condition of the young Prince Imperial, and from persons who know him well I have learned the following: If his father were able to devote sufficient attention to the education of his boy, he would, no doubt, succeed in making of him a man well qualified to fill the exalted position for which he has destined him. But he sees the boy rarely more than a few minutes at a time, and the young Prince has, moreover, little or nothing of the spirit or peculiarities of his father. He is a true son of his mother, indolent, fickle, irascible, light headed, generous and frivolous, like her. His education, in spite of the extraordinary pains that have been taken with it, has thus far produced but very indifferent results, so indifferent, indeed, that the young Prince is far behind his schoolmates. Physically, the lad is quite healthy."

THE Prussian headsmen having struck, refuse to strike unless their wages are increased.

Amateur Opera at the Union League Theatre, New York, for the Benefit of the Gottschalk Memorial Fund.

[From Watson's Journal.]

A very charming amateur performance was given at the Union League Theatre on Saturday evening, May 21, for the purpose of starting a fund for a monument to the memory of our late lamented and much loved American composer and pianist, L. M. Gottschalk. This graceful tribute to his memory was started by some of his lady friends of the highest social influence in this city, among whom Mrs. Colden Murray may be mentioned as having not only exerted herself to produce an entertainment worthy of the name it was to honor, but also in a pecuniary way exceeding many of the numerous performances that have been given this season, as over five hundred tickets, at $5 each, were sold for this entertainment. The first part of the programme commenced with Victor Massé's sparkling operetta, in one act, entitled Les Noces de Jeannette, in which the principal characters were sustained by two of Philadelphia's distinguished amateurs, Miss Schaumburg and Mr. d'Epineuil, who came on to New York expressly for this object. Miss Schaumburg made a charming "Jeannette;" she possesses grace and beauty in a very high degree, and, in addition, a voice of great sweetness and brilliancy, with exquisite cultivation. Her trill is one of the finest we have ever heard, and in what might be called the piece de resistance of the opera (Le Rossignol), she fairly brought down the house by her perfect rendering of it. As an actress she is simply wonderful in her naturalness, and almost makes one wish that fate had cast her lot in life so that she could oftener be seen and appreciated, for there are few actresses on the American stage that can compare with Miss Schaumburg.

Mr. d'Epineuil, as Jean, also showed great talent and experience, both as an actor and singer, and throughout the entire performance his conception of the part was worthy of the highest commendations, particularly in the scene when he wakes from his supposed sleep and finds everything changed around him; his movement in sitting down on the stairs, as if to collect his thoughts, and the expression of his face at that moment, would have done credit to any of our best actors. We must not forget to mention that the chorus was composed of some of the prettiest and most fashionable young ladies in society—Mrs. Talboys, Miss Smythe, Miss Allien, Miss Fuller, Miss Annie and Fannie Powell—who by the excellence of their singing, and beauty of their costumes, added much to the effect of the performance.

The Operetta was followed by the very amusing comedy, in one act, called "The Morning Call;" and when we say that Mrs Jennings and Mr. Lester Wallack personated the only two characters in this piece, what more can be said? We will simply add the word perfect. So ended one of the most enjoyable entertainments of the season, given for a cause with which every American will sympathize. And as it is yet only the stepping-stone to what ought to be, and what will be done in this matter, let us hope that every fresh effort will be crowned with success, and that soon we may see in some public place a monument worthy one of the greatest musical geniuses that America has ever produced.

Feminine Physicians--An Honest Recantation.

The Medical Gazette, which excellent journal has heretofore studiously fought against the claims of women to a recognized position in the profession, is at last forced to give up the contest, as will be seen from the following article taken from that paper:

> The modest prize which we last autumn offered to students for the greatest number of accepted clinical reports, has been awarded to "M. M. W.," and those of our readers who have noted the clearness and succinctness of the articles published under these initials, will perhaps be as much surprised as we lately were ourselves to learn that they indicate a woman's name, that of Mrs. Melissa M. Webster, M. D., a recent graduate of the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania. Much discussion has taken place (and nowhere so acrimoniously as in Philadelphia) concerning the mental and physical fitness of women for the medical profession, and in that discussion we have on several occasions borne an adverse part. But while we may even yet adhere to our belief in the rule, we cheerfully chronicle the exceptions to it, and freely admit that we have adduced in opposition to the "mixed clinique" no argument so forcible as the practical one elicited from the disputed benches of the Pennsylvania Hospital by our fair contributor. We still believe that but few women possess the laborious logical qualities of mind requisite for success in medical practice; that they are generally apt to reach conclusions by a sort of intuition rather than by the plodding toil of analysis and synthesis; we are convinced that to the vast majority of women our profession will prove too severe a tax physically; like most of our sex, moreover, we entertain almost as great a repugnance from a masculine woman as from an effeminate man. But all of these objections have been individually refuted by a few who, like Miss Garrett in England, and one or two whom we might name here, have shown that it is at least possible for a modest, womanly woman to achieve a useful and honorable career in medicine. To those of our brethren who dogmatically flout "female physic" on "general principles," we would hint that submission to the inevitable is the part of wisdom, and that individual capacity must henceforth be our criterion for judgment, unbiassed either by prejudice on the one hand, or by gallant leniency on the other; to our fair competitors who, resolved to try their lances in an exceedingly arduous battle, lay aside their sex's claim to tender consideration, and ask only "a fair field and no favor," we can assure grudging praise if they are victors, and little pity if they fail; to the great body of male applicants for enrollment in our ranks, we offer an adjuration to profit by the instruction afforded them as industriously as has at least one of those whose claims to recognition it is the fashion to perhaps underrate; and finally, to our new colleague herself we tender a welcome to our profession, and this recantation in her behalf of much that we have heretofore said.

The McLeod Murder.

Particulars of the recent horrible double murder near Fayetteville, North Carolina, have just come to hand. Neill McLeod, who, with his family of grown up children and an old bachelor brother, reside in a remote corner of Cumberland county, a short distance west of Fayetteville, were, on the 25th ult., startled by the appearance at the door of their dwelling of three men, disguised by having their faces blacked. Before any words could be exchanged the ruffians fired on the McLeods, killing them both almost instantly. One of the girls made her escape from the house and ran towards a neighbor's; the other daughter and the mother attempted to run up stairs, and were fired on and both wounded—the mother in the arm, and the daughter in the arm and breast. A son of Neill McLeod, who was in a field hard by, hearing the firing, ran to the house, and, on his approach, was fired on by the men, receiving fifteen buckshot in his body. The robbers then, after cutting the wounded daughter about the head with a bowie knife, making several ugly wounds, pillaged the house, obtaining two or three hundred dollars in money, a considerable quantity of jewelry, clothing and other articles, with which they made off. The daughter who escaped gave the alarm, but all attempts to capture the murderers have thus far proved unavailing. The murdered victims were both men of intelligence, and had before the war been wealthy, and though stripped of much of their property, were still in quite independent circumstances. The latest information from the family states that the mother and daughter, though very painfully wounded, will probably recover. The son's condition is very critical.

The German Immigrants of 1870.

According to the Magdeburger Zeitung, the emigrants of this year are distinguished from those of former years by the fact that five-sixths of those who have resolved to seek a new home in America are those in the possession of capital. Besides this they are mostly people of some knowledge. Formerly the peasants and day-laborers of Pomerania, West Prussia, and Posen formed the principal part of the emigration; those were therefore almost utterly unacquainted with the state of matters in the Union, who went there and were exposed to numerous dangers before they could settle. This year it is more particularly the more intelligent laborer and merchant who seems desirous of trying his fortune. Besides the above-mentioned districts Priegnitz sends a large number of emigrants, who follow their old countrymen to the most promising parts of the country. It is not without interest to remember that some of them were among the founders of Chicago, and these have of course become very rich people.

NOTICING the statement of a Massachusetts paper that "the shore of Waldren pond in Concord, N. H. (scene of Thoreau's hermit life), is growing a forest of peanut bushes, the germs of which were dropped by munching visitors," the Detroit Tribune remarks: "If the visitors 'munched' peanuts, of course they were baked, and they will sprout and grow nearly as quick as a boiled potatoe. Besides peanuts do not grow on bushes, so that on the whole, the worshippers of Thoreau need not weep over the desecration of his hallowed stamping grounds."

THE LIFE SUSTAINING ORGAN.

The two organs which minister most directly to the support of the body are the stomach and liver. In the former the first process of digestion takes place, under the action of that powerful solvent, the gastric juice. Thence the food, controverted into a pulp, passes into the duodenum, where it is subjected to the action of the bile or gall, flowing from the liver, and of the fluid generated from the pancreas, or sweetbread of the system. These secretions separate the nutritious portions from the rest, and it is then taken up by the absorbent vessels and conveyed into the channels of circulation in the form of venous blood, while the waste matter is discharged through the bowels. Unless all these processes are duly performed, disease of some sort is inevitable, and the best of all medicinal agents for preserving or restoring the tone and regulating the action of the three organs—(the stomach, liver and intestines)—by which the threefold work is carried on, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Indigestion is generally accompanied by constipation, and the gentle cathartic operation of the Bitters is no less important in cases of this kind, than its tonic effect upon the stomach and the biliary gland. Beauty of person as well as health, depends in no small degree upon the regularity of the excretive functions. A sallow complexion, a thick opaque coarse skin, a tainted breath, rush of blood to the head, loss of memory, headache, and extreme mental depression, are the usual accompaniments of costiveness. A course of the Bitters will infallibly relieve, and finally banish these obnoxious symptoms while invigorating the stomach and promoting healthy action in the liver. This genial vegetable stomachic and alterative, strikes at disease in its primary sources, the assimilating, secretive and expulsive organs, and the cures it effects are consequently thorough and complete.

DR. WHITTIER
CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL PRIVATE DISEASES, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, Pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE ST. (near Court House) Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, June 8, 1870.

The breadstuffs market continues to attract considerale attention all over the country, and within the past two or three days there has been a good deal of excitement in some of the leading markets, particularly Chicago, which always takes the lead in anything of this kind.

The Chicago Republican, which we presume represents the bull element, says of wheat: "It is generally believed—and reports warrant the belief—that there is a smaller area of wheat sown this year than in 1869, for reasons which we have given before—it does not pay—and advices from Europe are not favorable, so that it is expected that England will require more aid than before. Hence opinions are rife that higher prices will prevail and the majority of operators are disposed to look upon wheat as cheap, though some of those same operators thought wheat was dear at 74c per bushel."

The Tribune of the same place has the following on the same subject: Wheat was moderately active, and 5c higher than the average of Saturday's 'Change prices, ruling also quite steady. The news received here on Saturday afternoon to the effect that the export demand in New York, both for wheat and flour, is urgent and increasing, was repeated to-day, if not confirmed, added to which there was a further rumor that war is imminent between Russia and some other great powers. This being expected to cut off the Northern supplies to France and Great Britain, stimulated speculation both here and in Milwaukee. At the same time it should be noted that shipping wheat is a hazardous proceeding, the price having been run up here to a much higher figure than it will pay to send it to New York, and only those who have full faith that Chicago will bring New York upwards have courage to attack it. But even they could make more money by operating with their capital in Chicago, carrying the property on the tremendous margin allowed between seller the month and seller last half. Hence there is little encouragement to ship.

BUTTER—The market is dull, and while there is no improvement in the demand the arrivals appear to be falling off somewhat and prices are unchanged; we continue to quote at 14@18 for fair to choice.

BEANS—There is scarcely any inquiry and the market is dull and prices nominal at $1,50@1,75 per bushel.

BROOM CORN—Dull; 13@15 cts.

BROOMS—Store prices; Fancy, $5,50; No. 1, $4,50; No. 2, $4; No. 3, $3,50; Common, $2,50@3.

CORNMEAL—Is dull but the stock is light and prices unchanged; 95@$1 per bushel.

CEMENT—Sales of Louisville Hydraulic at $3@3½ per bbl.

CARBON OIL—Is quiet and unchanged—23½@24, in a jobbing way.

DRIED FRUIT—Sales of Apples at 5½@6⅛; Peaches, at 6@7 for quarters; 8@9 for halves, and 17@18 for pared. Blackberries, 12@13; pitted Cherries, 23@25.

EGGS—The arrivals although not large are pretty well up to the demand, though prices are maintained—sales at 21@22.

FLOUR—The market is very firm and somewhat excited under the influence of the advices from Chicago and New York, and prices are stronger and higher, and as always is the case when prices are advancing, there is an improved demand. As we noted yesterday, there is now but very little difference between the price of spring and winter wheat flour, and, as might be expected, the inquiry in this market is mainly for the latter. We now quote at $5,75@6 for good and $6,25 for choice. Rye Flour unchanged at $5.

GROCERIES—The sales of sugars have been heavy during the past week and with a strong market prices are firm and well maintained; while there is some uncertainty in regard to prices, there is no doubt but what there will be a continued active demand all summer and fall as there is every prospect of a big crop of fruit. There is a modorate demand for Coffee, and Rice is firm and higher. Other articles remain unchanged. Following are the ruling quotatins:

SUGARS—Cuba, 10⅛@11; Porto Rico at 10⅞@11⅞; New Orleans, 10⅞@12c; Havana in boxes, 11@12. Molasses Sugars, 9⅛@10⅜. A Coffee, 13⅜c; "B" do 13c; Extra C 12⅞c; C. 12⅛c. Crushed, Granulated 14⅛; and Powdered 14⅛c.

GRAIN—The grain trade in sympathy with Chicago and New York is beginning to show a stronger appearance, and while as yet there is no improvement in the demand the feeling is better and holders are not so anxious to realize being pretty well satisfied that their best policy is to hold on. Wheat is in better demand and firmer though not quotably higher; $1,15@1,18 for good to prime red. At the present time wheat is much higher relatively in the west than it is here. PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
WEDNESDAY, June 8, 1870.

The oil market continues exceedingly dul and depressed, and the prospects for an early improvement are not encouraging. At no time in the history of the trade has there been such a protracted season of depression at this particular time of the year, and the worst feature lies in the fact that while the present is bad the future does not indicate anything better. Heretofore, April to July has been regarded as the most active part of the year; refiners usually bought more crude and sold more refined, than during any of the other months; but thus far this year, the trade has been unusually dull and unsatisfactory.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary last evening with 3 feet 10 inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks. It is singular that after all the rain that has fallen within the past week or two there is not much more water; the rains we had here could not have extended to the headwaters of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, otherwise there would certainly have been a rise here of several feet.

There has been no arrivals since the date of our last report excepting the regular local packets.

The Belle, Capt. J. P. Smith, is the regular packet for Brownsville and Geneva to-day, leaving at 5 o'clock P. M. The Belle pays particular attention to way business. Messrs. McElroy & Co. are her agents.

Capt. Evans, of the Kate Putnam has not yet decided what he will do.

The Granite State, Capt. Wash Kerr, is due here this morning, and will return to Portsmouth as usual to-morrow at 4 P. M. She will receipt passengers and freight through to Cincinnati.

—In March, 1868, a suit was decided against the steamer Magenta for damages sustained by the Brazil in colliding with the former steamer. The United States Court reversed the decision a few days since and ordered the damages to be equally divided, and that T. P. Leathers, E. Conery, J. H. Carter and James Reeve pay $6,000 for one half the damages sustained by the Magenta. The costs of suit were ordered to be equally divided.

—Says the Cincinnati Commercial: Lithenbury is building the hull of a sidewheel steamer for the Arkansas River and Memphis trade, under the superintendence of Capt. John Woodburn. It will be 200 feet long, 32 feet beam, with five feet hold, and is to be completed by the first of August. It will receive the Natoma's machinery, and be completed by the 15th of September.

—The Knoxville Press and Herald of Friday says: The river was up higher yesterday than it has been since the great flood of March, 1867, which submerged Chattanooga. Considerable damage has been done to the crops on the bottom lands by the overflow.

—The St. Louis Republican sometimes gets things a little mixed. Look at the following: Capt. S. Shuman has returned from Pittsburgh to Cincinnati, where he will assume command of the rejuvenated Annie Laurie.

—Messrs Wilcox & Stevens of Omaha, have sold the sternwheel steamer Argonaut, to Capt. Peter Conrad, for the sum of $3,000 cash. Capt. Conrad designs putting his new purchase in the Tennessee River trade.

—The Cincinnati Enquirer says: The ship carpenters at several of the boat yards here struck for higher wages yesterday morning. The demand of the carpenters was satisfied, we believe, and the men resumed work.

—A dispatch from Louisville says that the Louisville & Henderson Packet Company want to purchase the Arlington. The Company will charter her this season, any way.

—The Juniata left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Monday. She will doubtless reach here to-night, and return again to-morrow.

—The St Marys, Lorena St. Charles and Bellevernon took out a pic nic excursions from Cincinnati on Monday.

—The Glasgow arrived at Cincinnati on Monday from New Orleans.

FINANCIAL.

LOAN
of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Co.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad

Is completed and running from RICHMOND, VA., to the celebrated WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, in West Virginia, 227 miles. It is being rapidly extended to the Ohio river, 200 miles further making in all 427 miles.

In its progress Westward, it penetrates and opens up to market the WONDERFUL COAL DEPOSITS OF THE KANAWHA REGION IN WEST VIRGINIA. And thus brings the superior and abundant Coals of that section into communication with the IRON ORES OF VIRGINIA AND OHIO, and the WESTERN, SOUTH WESTERN AND EASTERN MARKETS.

When completed it will connect the SUPERIOR HARBOR FACILITIES OF THE CHESAPEAKE BAY with reliable navigation on the Ohio river, and thus with the ENTIRE SYSTEM OF RAILROAD AND WATER TRANSPORTATION OF THE GREAT WEST AND SOUTHWEST.

It will make a SHORT, EASY, CHEAP and FAVORABLE ROUTE from the WEST to the SEA and will command a LARGE SHARE OF THE ENORMOUS FREIGHTS seeking transportation to the coast.

It will thus become one of the most IMPORTANT AND PROFITABLE EAST AND WEST TRUNK LINES OF RAILROAD in the country, and command a trade of immense value.

The completed portion of the Road is doing a PROFITABLE AND INCREASING BUSINESS, and is fully equal in value to the whole amount of the mortgage upon the entire Line—($15,000,000.)

The loan of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Company, being a FIRST MORTGAGE UPON THE ENTIRE LINE, PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENTS, WORTH WHEN COMPLETED AT LEAST $30,000,000, is therefore one of the most substantial, conservative and reliable Railroad Loans ever offered in the market, and is peculiarly adapted to the wants of

We call attention to the guarantee posted on our Strictly Pure White Lead, and when we say a "purer carbonate of lead," we mean "chemically pure," that is free from Acetate and Hydrate, and therefore is whiter and superior, both in color and covering property.

GUARANTEED to be a purer carbonate of Lead and whiter than any in the market, and will forfeit the price of this package if containing the least adulteration.

THE DAILY GAZETTE.

HOME NEWS.

Advertising Pays!

A few days ago the old substantial firm of John S. Dilworth & Co., wholesale grocers, Nos. 130 and 132 Second avenue, published an advertisement of their business in the GAZETTE. We took occasion at the time to commend the firm in fitting terms, and on the following day a gentleman, previously unknown to them, called and purchased nearly $1,000 worth of goods, ascribing his call to having read the advertisement and our notice of it in the GAZETTE. We feel sure the purchaser will have no occasion to regret the acquaintance we have induced him to make, and predict that the new customer will become an old one. The harvest does not always so palpably and so quickly follow the seed-time, but the experience of all liberal and persistent advertisers is that "it pays."

The people of the country are busily engaged in shearing sheep.

Postponed.—The concert at Oakdale has been postponed until after harvest.

The New Fence around City Hall, Allegheny, will be completed in a few days.

Bushels of strawberries are now in the market, selling at twenty cents a box.

The Annual Election of officers of the Allegheny Library will take place this evening.

Church Avenue, Allegheny, is being widened to admit of a foot walk on the north side.

The Building Inspector received $393,50 for fifty-six permits issued for the month of May.

Yesterday Deputy Mayor Nichols committed John Limbie to jail for acting disorderly in the streets.

Alderman Taylor's police are after George Leutz for selling liquor without license at his tavern on Penn street.

The New Floating Free Bath House has been launched in the Allegheny below the Hand street bridge, and is ready for use.

Alderman Taylor issued a warrant for the arrest of Jerry Rielly for assaulting Henry Godfrey. The parties reside in the Ninth ward.

Alderman Butler yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of Maria Roberts for stealing a linen undergarment from a sister professional, Mary Crable.

Abusing an apprentice doesn't pay. Alderman Allen yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of Joseph R. Wickline, charged with this offence by John Barry.

John Davis, a resident of Mulberry alley, yesterday was before Alderman McMasters for keeping a disorderly house. Henry Sturm prosecutor. He gave bail for court.

Two Men with assumed names were fined fifteen dollars each by acting Mayor Irwin, yesterday morning, for disorderly conduct on Tuesday night, on the Manchester street cars.

Johnny Seville, a small boy, was before acting Mayor Irwin yesterday for vagrancy. He was found the night before sleeping in a dry goods box, on Federal street. Discharged after being reprimanded.

August Geisler yesterday amused himself by calling Joseph Reinhart names—names of a vile character—names of a disorderly nature—hence he has been arrested and held for a hearing by Alderman Neubert.

The new building being erected by the Dollar Savings Bank will be decidedly the handsomest building in the State. In fact it is expected to compete for taste and beauty with any building west of the mountains.

Yesterday a dog owned by Nicholas Plummer bit a little child of Adam Gruber's, who subsequently made information before Alderman Herron against Plummer for keeping a ferocious dog. The parties reside in the Ninth ward. Warrant issued.

Two of the largest lions that have ever been in Pittsburgh are now owned by the Dollar Savings Bank, and are on exhibition at No. 124, Fourth avenue, opposite the Mayor's office. They are perfectly harmless and can be handled with safety by a child old enough to walk.

Still Another—During the thunder storm on Tuesday afternoon the lightning struck the Centenay Methodist Church, corner Wylie and Kirkpatrick streets. Half a dozen holes were made in the roof, and the plastering of a part of the ceiling was torn off, otherwise the building was not damaged.

Pic Nic.—The "youth and beauty" along Halfcrown Run design holding a pic nic at the Halfcrown school house in a short time. The grove selected is a beautiful one; the managers are able and efficient, and no doubt they will do all in their power to make the pic nic a very pleasant affair.

Fire.—The residence of Mr. Thomas Wilson, of North Fayette township, narrowly escaped being burned a few days since. The soot in the chimney caught fire and falling upon the roof instantly set fire to it. The fire was discovered by Mr. William Wilson, who by almost superhuman exertions, saved the building.

Deputy Mayor Nichols had before him yesterday Joseph Meyers, an individual who had served several years in the penitentiary, on the charge of vagrancy. He was sent thirty days to the work house.

Before the same magistrate Milton McCary was, on the charge of fraud and disorderly conduct. He was held.

Andes Insurance Company.—On our first page will be found the prospectus of this mammoth Company. It is unnecessary for us to say anything to our capitalists in regard to its soundness and great expectation. We all know the "Andes" will rank among the foremost. As a paying institution no one doubts. Read carefully the prospectus.

Slight Fire.—About half past nine o'clock last evening there was an alarm of fire from box 31, Neptune Engine House, which was caused by a slight fire in Mr. Fred. Holmes' residence, No. 40 Seventh avenue. The venitian blind at one of the windows blew up and came in contact with a gas burner and caught fire. It was extinguished before any serious damage was done.

James Brightmore yesterday expressed a desire to enter the tonsorial profession, and proposed to signalize his advent into that enticing occupation by making a deathly incision into the throat of Kate McCauley with a razor. Alderman Neubert issued a warrant for the arrest of James, and last evening his constable was pensively perambulating Virgin alley in search of the accused.

Land Slide.—An extensive land slide occurred after the storm Tuesday night, on the Pan Handle Railroad, near Saw Mill Run. A piece of the hillside about eighty-four feet in length by four feet in depth was distributed over the track. All trains were stopped. Yesterday a large force of workmen were engaged in removing the obstruction, and to-day probably the trains will be running regularly.

Pittsburgh Gas Co.—The foundation for the magnificent building being erected by the Pittsburgh Gas Co. on Sixth avenue was finished yesterday. The brick work will be commenced at once, and pushed vigorously till finished. The building, when finished, will do credit to the Directors of the company and be an ornament to the city. The company hopes to be able to occupy it by the middle of October next.

Kicked Out.—Kicking a man out of a house is, according to Purdon, assault and battery. John McMahon was made acquainted with that fact yesterday when Francis O'Donnell had him brought before Alderman Butler for such amusement. A young scion of the O'Donnel race it seems was employed by McMahon, and his father went to collect his wages when he was thus coolly received. The Alderman will dispose of the case to-day.

Oakdale Institute.—This Institution, although but a short time organized, is in a flourishing condition. Silas Cooke, A. M., is Principal, and Miss E. J. Dickson Assistant Principal, both of whom are excellent instructors. The Institute will give an exhibition about the middle of July which no doubt, will be a very pleasant affair. Miss Lizzie D. Byers, of Oakdale, holds the position of teacher of instrumental music in the Institute.

Sanguinary.—Thomas Stinger is employed in a butcher shop on Wylie street. One of his customers, Thomas Watson, purchased a parcel of meat from him yesterday. They had a difficulty about the weight, Watson alleging that it was short. Stinger thereupon became excited and threatened to employ his skill in removing the heart from the body of his customer. Objection was made to that, and Stinger was taken before Alderman Butler and held for a hearing.

Congratulatory.—Mr. Townsend, the very worthy son of our esteemed friend, Miles A. Townsend, Esq., of Beaver Falls, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony on Tuesday last to Miss Maggie Stewart, one of the most accomplished young ladies of the same place. The happy couple have our best and heartiest congratulations, and we trust that they may have joy, happiness and contentment, and that no cloud of sorrow or misfortune may ever darken the sunshine of their lives, but that together they may live in the love of each other till death shall undo the solemn vow which has united them together.

A Love of Novelty, if nothing else, will draw hundreds to the three Humboldt entertainments on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of next week. The tableaux are said to be exquisite imitators of Dore's drawings, and they will have all of Professor Conrad's experience to aid in assuring perfect representations. The music will be fine, being from our leading amateurs, and the fact that each person who goes aids in securing to the Allegheny commons the superb bust, which has not yet been paid for, will, we feel convinced, draw many there who otherwise might not go, but will undoubtedly be glad they went, and think themselves repaid if the tableaux only half equal the glowing descriptions we have heard of them.

Episcopal Church Home Fair and Festival.

Our readers are reminded that the Annual Church Home fair and festival is to be held this afternoon and evening at the "Home" near the Arsenal Park. The extensive grounds, intersected by meandering walks, and embellished with shrubs and clumps and flowers and lawns and stately trees, have rendered these annual reunions particularly attractive and brought together not only the ladies and gentlemen of the church, under whose auspices the Home is maintained, but their friends of all denominations have mingled in the social ameneties and joined in generous offerings in aid of the noble charity. Let all ride out this evening to see and enjoy.

Quarter Sessions—Judge Collier.

WEDNESDAY, June 8.—The case of the Commonwealth vs. Wm. C. Rafferty, reported yesterday, was resumed.

THE DEFENSE.

Thomas M. Marshall, Esq., opened the case for the defense in his usual eloquent and forcible manner.

A number of the leading citizens of the city were then called to testify as to the character of the defendant. They all agreed that his reputation up until the commencement of this suit had been unexceptionable.

Bernard Burns had known defendant for over twenty years; was on intimate terms with his father's family, and had never heard his character as a law abiding citizen called in question until the commencement of this prosecution.

John Mellon, Esq., was also acquainted with defendant; have known him for a number of years and never heard his character called in question.

The testimony here closed.

THE ARGUMENTS.

District Attorney Pearson opened the argument on behalf of the Commonwealth. After reciting the act under which the indictment was drawn and reading the indictment to the jury, he called the attention of the jury to the difficulties under which the Commonwealth labored to make out a case. The witnesses who knew anything about the facts in the case were all gamblers and consequently unwilling witnesses. He then commented at length upon the testimony, after which he closed by asking the jury if they were satisfied that the Commonwealth had made out a case against the defendent, to return a verdict of guilty.

M. Swartzwelder, Esq., followed for the defendent. He said that under the indictment the defendant must be tried for being a common gambler, and no matter how much he might have engaged in gaming, unless he came under the well established technical definition of a common gambler, the jury could not find a verdict. A common gambler was one who had spent his whole life, time and exertions in fleecing his victims.

A common gambler according to a strict construction of the law was simply one who followed gambling for a livelihood; one who has no other occupation and depended upon gambling to gain a livelihood. The witnesses brought to convict the defendant were the men whom the law defined to be common gamblers, and the defendant is the man whom the law was made to protect. He has been the victim of these vampires, and after fleecing him they come up and say that he is a common gambler.

Thos. M. Marshall, Esq., followed in a brief argument to the court on the law, after which he closed with a few remarks on the facts to the jury.

Mr. Haines followed for the commonwealth and closed the case with a forcible and convincing argument on both the law and the facts, after which Judge Collier charged the jury.

THE VERDICT.

The jury, after an absence of an hour, returned a verdict of not guilty on the first count, which charged him with being a common gambler, and on the second count, which charged him with aiding and assisting in gambling, and permitting others to gamble, a verdict of guilty was rendered, and the defendant recommended to the mercy of the Court.

The next case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. Barbara Brawdy against whom there were three indictment for selling liquor on Sunday, and without license. The bills were found at the June term, 1868, since which time the prosecutor has failed to appear. The jury were directed to return a verdict of not guilty, and find who should pay the costs. They found a verdict of not guilty, and directed that the prosecutrix, Anna Mullen, pay the costs.

There being no other cases ready for trial, the jurors were discharged until 9½ o'clock A. M. Thursday.

The Park Commissioners

Of Allegheny, by their dilatory conduct, are likely to get some of their fellow citizens involved in law suits. For two years the owners of property bordering upon the South Common have been paying the extra Park tax, and in return have not only received no benefit to their property, but have had their own attempts at improving the Commons destroyed, the grass dug up and even some trees cut down. Wagons are allowed to make their bivouacs upon that portion bordering on Federal street, and rubbish of all sorts seems to gravitate that way. Some of the gutters have become almost impassable, and a fine gravel bed has been discovered and is being worked between Church and Stockton avenues. When property holders complain they are told that it is because they refused to accept the plan of improvement drawn up by the Commissioners, a plan which was to deprive Stockton avenue of an existence, and provide meandering walks for the dwellers upon that street to use as means of reaching the outer world, a very pretty and decidedly uncomfortable sort of a plan for people living there. And now being tired and disgusted with this, some of the gentlemen owning houses in that region have informed the authorities that unless immediate steps are taken to improve upon the present condition of things they will not pay the tax, claiming that they receive no benefit whatever therefrom. We hope that prompt action will be taken to prevent any such trouble as that which is thus threatened.

Coroners Inquest.

Coroner Clawson held an inquest yesterday on the body of William Hartje, who was killed by lightning Tuesday afternoon, an account of which we published yesterday. The following testimony was taken:

Louis Kauffman, sworn—I was in the carriage which deceased was driving. We crossed the Mechanics street bridge to Pittsburgh. Just as we got out of the bridge I heard a sound as if some one had discharged a gun. I jumped out of the carriage and found the horses down, and saw the deceased lying back in the seat of the carriage, with his arms elevated above his head. He was gasping at the time. We got him off, but he died in a few minutes afterwards.

Edwin Lewis, sworn—I was coming down Sixteenth street, facing the bridge, and immediately saw a flash of lightning which struck down the horses, and the deceased fell back in his seat. The horses had just placed their front feet on the stones outside of the cover of the bridge. The man died immediately after his removal. The accident occurred somewhat after two o'clock yesterday afternoon.

This closed the testimony. The jury returned the following verdict: That the deceased, Wm. Hartje, came to his death on the seventh day of June, 1870, in the Tenth ward, Pittsburgh, from a stroke of lightning.

Pittsburgh and New York.

The commercial and financial intercourse between this city and New York have increased so much within a few years, and the variety and magnitude of the transactions are such, that it has become necessary for our bankers and brokers, and many of our merchants as well, to have confidential relations with some perfectly reliable house in that city. Appropos to this we publish to-day the advertisement of Messrs. Taylor & Cooper, No. 5 Broad street, New York, who, with permission, make reference to the First National Bank of this city, where, upon inquiry, the highest testimony will be borne to the intelligence, responsibility, probity and promptitude of Messrs. Taylor & Cooper, that they are just the kind of a firm with whom it is both safe and pleasant to confide business, however important, delicate or confidential the same may be, such as the purchase or sale of all kinds of public securities and stocks or gold, the collection of coupons, dividends, &c., or the negotiation of loans.

An Extensive Purchaser.

A few days since a stranger visited this city and during his brief stay left the impression with many of our leading merchants that he was either a maniac or a rogue, and it was a difficult matter to determine just which, but the former impression appears to be the prevailing one. He first called at one of our leading carpet houses, and after a careful examination of the stock, ordered over three thousand dollars' worth of goods, stating that he would call in the evening and pay for them and direct where they should be shipped. A dry goods house on Market street was next visited, and after examining samples in the wholesale department, left an order for about $10,000 worth of goods, stating as at the former place, that he would call in the evening and cash the bill and direct the shipment of the goods.

A hardware house on Wood street was also favored with a visit from him. His mania for purchasing appeared to be on the increase, as after spending about an hour in looking over the stock he left an order for about $50,000 worth of goods, the bill to be cashed and the goods shipped under his direction in the evening. Having purchased all the goods he desired he turned his attention to live stock, and visiting a sale stable he contracted for a pair of horses and buggy at $8,000, stating that he would call next morning and pay for them. The merchants still have their goods and the horse dealer still retains the turnout. The purchaser has failed to put in an appearance. Who was he and what was his object? is the question asked by those who made the sales, but it has not been answered.

The Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railway Beginning to Work its Legitimate Effects.

A purchase of one thousand acres of valuable coal land on the South side of the Youghiogheny river, a short distance from West Newton, was made within a few days by Col. M. P. O'Hern and Joseph H. Maddox, Esq., men known for their extensive mining operations in the Cumberland coal district. These gentlemen contemplate opening several coal mines on these lands and connecting them with the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railway by a bridge over the river about one mile West of West Newton. The coal deposit is unsurpassed by any in the whole country for gas and coke purposes. The project of these enterprising Baltimoreans is an earnest that that city is waking up to the great importance of the mineral district with which the Connellsville road is so soon to bring her into direct communication. With the great advantage of greater proximity than any other tidewater city and by easier grades, we doubt whether the most sanguine friends of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railway so long wished and waited for, have any adequate pre-conception of the vastness of the traffic it is destined to enjoy, or of the wealth to be developed by the facilities for transportation shortly to be provided. Wealth that but for these facilities might remain dormant for ages.

Real Estate Transfers.

Observatory Time.

The arrangement for the purpose of supplying our citizens with uniform time from the Allegheny Observatory is one for which the community is indebted to the action of a few persons, who have interested themselves in bringing about what promises to be an eminent public convenience.

It is proposed, as our readers are aware, to correct the regulators in the different jewelers' stores with the standard clock of the Observatory by telegraph, so as to have perfect uniformity of time. This will be done first as an experiment, and the responsibility of regulating railroad or city clocks will not be assumed, at least for the present, by the Observatory.

The arrangements would have been already completed but for an unfortunate delay in the Allegheny Councils, which have not yet conceded the permission to the Observatory to set up a telegraph line at its own expense.

We are assured that the arrangement is one by which no one expects to profit pecuniarily, and we trust that the Councils will not hesitate to forward the plan, which promises to be a public benefit and is conceived in a public spirit.

Amusements.

MINSTRELS.—Carncross & Dixey's Minstrels, at the Academy of Music, have been favored with better audiences than any minstrel troupe that ever visited this city. The fact is doubtless owing to the unobjectionable character of their entertainments. Heretofore "Black Crook" entertainments have had a decided inclination and tendency to vulgarism which, we are pleased to see, have been totally discarded by this excellent company, the members of which appear to be gentlemen, and conduct themselves as such on the stage, as well as upon the street. All who enjoy such entertainments should give them a call. Remember that their engagement terminates on Saturday night.

MASONIC HALL.—The cantata society will give their first grand concert, of the last of the season, to-night at Masonic Hall. The programme comprises a very fine selection of musical gems to be rendered by the very best of our amateur vocalists. We sincerely hope there will be a large attendance and full well we know that all who are present will enjoy themselves highly as seldom is such a treat offered. To-morrow evening the second concert will be given with an entire change of programme.

A Model Jail.

The jail at Uniontown, Fayette county, must be a model one in its way. Unfortunately, that way is not one of civilization. A gentleman of this city happened to be in that suburban town a few days ago on business, and being an active member of our Prison Society, he felt an interest in the prison, which attracted him to the Uniontown institution. It is a substantially built structure and in that respect answers every purpose. Inside the first noticeable feature was a pool of water in the centre of the main hall. In explanation he was told that was the place the "prisoners threw wash water." The prisoners he found hustled together irrespective of age, crime, sex or color, in the same tier of cells. In one instance a young girl, committed for some trifling offense, was placed in a cell on either side of which were others occupied by some of the worst characters in the county. How long it would require to make her doubly vile under such circumstances is easily imagined.

That town needs a Prison Society and some new prison regulations.

The Farm of Aptonga.

A story of the times of St. Cyprian, by the late Rev. J. M. Neale, A. M., Warden of Sackville College, England. New York: Pott & Amery. For sale by J. W. Pittock; price 75 cents.

This work appeared first in this country in the columns of the "Church Record," selected as not only the best of Dr. Neale's historical tales, but also (owing to the manner of its publication in England), that with which American churchmen were the least acquainted. It is now reprinted, for preservation in permanent form, and will prove at once a valuable and cheap accession to the library of every churchman and all others who can enjoy historical sketches of the customs and habits of the primitive Christians, written in a style equally graphic and pleasing.

Sherman Lakes.

The condition of Sherman avenue, in Allegheny, is something perfectly frightful. The gutters which drained that thoroughfare seem to have been dammed up by the Park workmen, and the street for almost a square is covered with foul green water, which serves to hide the bottomless pit of mud. Not only is this disagreeable in the highest degree to those residing upon that street, among whom are many of our best citizens, but the presence of so much stagnant water cannot fail to have a much to be dreaded effect upon the health of the neighborhood. Provision should have been made for draining the street before the old Common gutters were closed, and the authorities should not delay a day longer in abating this nuisance. The weather is almost certain to be very warm now, and its effect upon the Sherman Avenue Lakes can not be good.

The Right Thing—The Right Place.

Mr. Editors:—I was led by your favorable notice of J. F. Beilstine, and by the testimony of a friend who has dealt with him for more than a year, to try for myself the quality of the various kinds of meat for which he is celebrated. My experience is good proof that Beilstine either at his stand 78 Pittsburgh or 39 Allegheny Market, is, as yo have said, a sure place to get good, and only good beef, mutton, or veal, cut and served exactly as they should be. Try him and be convinced.

TH. DINNER AT HOME.

How to Look Young—Sixteen.—Don't paint or use vile Hair Restorers, but simply apply Hagan's Magnolia Balm upon your face, neck and hands, and use Lyon's Kathairon upon your hair. The Balm makes your complexion pearly, soft and natural, and you can't tell what did it. It removes freckles, tan, sallowness, ring-marks, moth-patches, etc.; and in place of a red, rustic face, you have the marble purity of an exquisite belle. It gives to middle age the bloom of perpetual youth. Add these effects to a splendid head of hair produced by the Kathairon, and a lady has done her best in the way of adornment. Brothers will have no spinster sisters when these articles are around. T-TH-S

The Spring Stock of Henry G. Hale, Merchant Tailor, at corner of Penn avenue and Sixth street, is now large and complete. Monsieur Bonpain continues to preside at the cutting. tf

Shoo, Fly.

The ridiculous and "boddering" song of "Shoo, Fly," is going the rounds of the languages. The following is given as a French version, but it is not a Frenchman's verse or version:

"Je suis je suis, je suis.
Comme l'etoile du matin,
Je suis, je suis, je suis,
Comme l'etoile du matin:
La musique est en l'air,
C'est qua ma mere ma dit,
Les anges elles jetti la melasse
Sur la fete ce ne—grec.
Va! mouche! ne m' incommode,
Va! mouche! ne m' incommode,
Va! mouche! ne m' incommode,
Car je suis un de Compagnie G."

And now the stuff has been put into Latin, in California, as will be seen by the following extract from the May number of the Overland Monthly:

In excavating for the foundation of a corral, in San Barnardine county, there was recently exhumed one of the decades of Livy graven on tin plates, in the reformed Egyptian character. Among the many time honored fictions of Roman history which it destroys is the sublime reply of Caius Marius to the officer who sought him amid the ruins of Carthage. The hero's genuine answer is to be found in the following verses, which he is said to have chanted with much pathos. They have been transscribed from the new found MS. (which—it is but just to the historian to state—contains an apology for their Atellan rudeness), and are offered to the public, not only as illustrating history, but as indicating the classical dignity of American statesmanship:

VD MUSCUM MOLESTAM.

I.

Mihi videtur ut angili cantent
Pennisque celeribus item volent,
Ac eos sentio, bis turque sentio,
(Genitricem hoc olim dixisse scio)
Theriacen diffudisse nuper
Nigri hujus in caput desuper.
Abi, musca, ne inquietes me,
Sum enim miles de manipio G.

II.

Itemque sentio, mentis per vim,
Ut phosphorus ipse egomet sim,
Sed tamen existimat Æthiops hic—
Apricetur sicubi dormiens sic
Uut adeset musca punctura nasum
Sibi tegendum caput tam charum.
Abi, musca, ne inquietes me,
Sum enim miles de manipio G.

Roman Gossip--Two Lively Stories.

The New York Post says:

A Roman correspondent sends us some gossip of the city, from which we select these two tales: * * * The descendant, I should say the last scion, of a very noble Roman house, has paid very marked attention during all this winter to Mademoiselle X., a very handsome young lady, but without any other fortune than her beauty. Consequently the prince systematically declined to pop the question.

The poor girl, who has been out for three or four seasons, wept in vain at her gallant's feet, and finally appealed to her brother, an officer of Zouaves and a remarkably fascinating man. Without a moment's hesitation the soldier took up the family quarrel, and deliberately walked to the Palazzo Y., and into the refractory suitor's bedroom.

"Look here," he said, "Prince, if you don't marry my sister within a fortnight, I'll marry your mother before the end of the month."

"You are perfectty capable of doing it," said the Roman, "and I promise you that Mlle. Aline shall be my wife."

The banns were published the following Sunday. It is almost superfluous to add, by way of explanation, that the Dowager Princess Y., like Offenbach's Grando Duchesse, "aime les militaires."

* * * * Everybody knows that Rome is famous for its shops for the sale of antiquities, which are sometimes genuine. In the Via del Leoncino is a respectable Israelite, who, like Shylock, has a pretty daughter, and hither, during the winter, has resorted a most respectable middle-aged English gentleman, whose passion is strongly developed for old China. One day lately the shopkeeper was out, the daughter was at the counter, the Englishman attempted to kiss her; she slapped his face; he tried to catch the flying Galatea, and in the struggle upset a pile of rare old crackery. Thereupon the mother came in, turned Lovelace out of the house, and sent in a bill of 18,000 francs for damages. The Englishman refused to pay; a duplicate was sent to his wife, who packed up and left Rome, but the antiquary stopped his customer's passport at the police office, where the case is to be tried on Saturday.

The Greek Brigands.

The paper entitled "Greek Brigands," which appears in the current number of Cassell's Magazine, will be perused with much interest. It has been compiled from documents provided by Sir Stafford Northcote, and reveals some strange phases in brigand life. The following description is given of the system of treating for the ransom of captives:

There is a regular system of treating for the ransom of captives. A letter is first conveyed by the robbers from the captive to his friends. This generally contains a safe conduct for the messenger who shall be chosen to go to the robber camp and treat, and a plan marking out certain places, he must stop at. He travels by night, on a white horse, and carries a small bell, which he rings at certain convenient and solitary situations, where he is answered by a shrill whistle if all is well. Unless the whistle is, he must not go on, and the whole plan is so arranged, that the man himself does not know where he is finally going to, so that it is impossible for the authorities to discover the brigands' haunt thereby. At a certain spot the robbers meet him, and conduct him into the presence of the chief. Then a regular bargaining is commenced. The chief names a sum, which the messenger, if he is a man of determination, and represents well the insufficient means of the captive, can often get reduced. When the bargain is struck the messenger goes back for the money by a different road to that he came by, and returns with the same ceremonies and precautions. The ransom is delivered to the chief in the presence of all the band, who light a taper and examine all the coins to see if they are good. The captive is then brought in, loosed from his ropes, his beard cut off, and then he is kissed by each robber on the cheek, whilst they all cry out several times "Kallah!" that is to say "Begone and be of good health." Should the robbers be besieged during the time of the bargaining, both captive and ransom are destroyed.

Transfusion of Blood.

A memoir recently published upon the transfusion of blood from one living subject to another, mentions, as the principal points reached in the investigations of the author, first, that blood collected and kept in contact with the air at a medium temperature remains unchanged in its constituent histological condition, and preserves its chemical peculiarities for two or three hours; second, that the red globules, saturated with oxygen, are the actual revivifying principle, the fibrin not being an essential part. On this account, to insure safety, and to prevent the introduction of clots into the circulation, blood deprived of its fibrin is to be preferred to that in its normal condition. Third, the defibrinated blood of any species, transfused into an individual of the same species, can revivify that individual, compensating for loss of blood, fulfilling all the functions of the normal and primitive blood, and being subject to all its physiological laws. In the same way we can combat an alteration of the blood by exchanging it for that which is healthy. Fourth, the blood of animals of one species can revivify, if even in a transitory manner, animals of another species. Such blood is readily decomposed, and if it has been injected in small quantities it may be eliminated; if injected in large quantities it may produce death. Fifth, transfusion well executed is not a dangerous operation. The practical dangers signalized by the author lie in the introduction of foreign bodies with the blood, the formation of clots even in injecting the defibrinated blood, the introduction of air into the circulation, and the precipitation of the injection, and finally, phlebitis, or inflammation of the inner membrane of the punctured vein.—Editor's Scientific Record in Harper's Magazine for June.

A Fire in the Basement.

The following letter, lately received by the Mayor of Indianapolis, indicates a belief on the part of the writer that h—l isn't far from that place:

May 15, 1870.

MAYOR OF INDIANAPOLIS:

DEAR SIR: I propose to furnish all the heat necessary to run all the manufacturing works, and to do all the heating of business houses and resident buildings in your city, from the fire within the earth, provided your citizens will pay a sufficient sum to do the work. The machinery will cost about $150,000, and the labor $500,000, or thereabout. You may think this impossible; nothing is impossible. The fire is there.

The Aboriginal Golgotha.

Michigan antiquaries are excited over the discovery, in Allegan county, in a level piece of heavy timbered land, of a mound of earth with a base sixteen by eighteen feet, and now perhaps four or five feet high. On the summit grows a beech tree, not very large, but with a gnarly look, as if the kind of food its roots have met below have not agreed with it. A flourishing maple, lower down the mound, where it probably did not find so much dead man, has attained the size of two feet in diameter. This mound is a stack of human bones. A slight opening has been made on the top, and skulls and similar horrors taken therefrom, but very little of this big grave [illegible] disturbed and the bony fragments lie scattered about.

It is said that Beecher saves up all his champagne bottles to throw out the back window nights at cats that are courting in the yard. Some of the neighbors sit up nights to see Henry come to the window in his night-shirt with an armful of bottles and sling them. Windows in the neighborhood can be rented for a night by strangers who are anxious to witness Mr. Beecher in this new and original act. Children half price. Beware of speculators, and buy tickets only of authorized agents.—N. Y. Democrat.

TAKE NOTICE!

The undersigned has letters patent of the United States for the improved construction of weather-boarding, inside lining and of wainscoting for houses. The weather-boarding, by this patent improvement, being more particularly intended for vertical use, and combines great durability and beauty of appearance; and it is so constructed as to entirely avoid the use of joint strips, and to prevent water from entering the joint of the gaping or the showing of the joints by the action of the weather on the timber.

Inside lining and wainscoting by this new method are so constructed as to form perfect panels as cheaply as by the ordinary flooring boards alone; thereby preventing the showing of the joints from any cause, and leaving no refuges for bugs.

He has also purchased the patent right of what is commonly known as the "Moulded Weather-boarding."

He has disposed of the following territorial and shop rights in Allegheny county, for both patents, to wit:

BIBLE TABLEAUX,

AFTER THE ILLUSTRATIONS OF

Mr. GUSTAV DORE,

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE

Humboldt Monument and Celebration.

The Committee in charge of the Humboldt Monument, in order to raise additional funds to meet the increased expenses consequent upon making improvements and changes on the Monument now nearly finished, and also to meet the expenses of the proposed Inauguration Ceremonies, which will take place in a month or two, have prevailed upon PROF. CONRAD and the TURNERS' SOCIETY, to reproduce a number of the

BEAUTIFUL TABLEAUX

Giving the Chief Incidents of Bible History, after Dore's celebrated Paintings, which were presented with such great applause during the Spring months by the Turners.

These representations, in the opinion of the press, our Artists, Bible Students, and connoisseurs generally, far exceed anything of the kind ever gotten up in this country, and cannot fail proving attractive to all.

The Committee is also much gratified in being able to announce that a FULL ORCHESTRA has been engaged, and that a large number of our BEST AMATEURS, under the direction of Mr. H. KLEBER, have kindly promised to lend their assistance in producing appropriate

Music, Sacred as well as Secular.

There is no doubt that the large expense assumed will readily be met by an appreciative audience, and that these entertainments will in themselves form a celebration in Plastic and Musical Art worthy the occasion.

Only Three Exhibitions will be Given,
Six Tableaux Each Evening,
ON
TUESDAY, June 14th, THURSDAY, 16th and SATURDAY, 18th of next week.

Seats can be reserved on FRIDAY MORNING, at 9 o'clock, at Messrs. Kleber's Music Store. Price 75 cents each.

Tickets for Parquette and Dress Circle, without reservation, 50 cents; Gallery, 35 cents.

A full Programme of the Tableaux and Musical Pieces will be published in this paper on Friday.
